ABOUT US

OUR COMPANY

The C.H.A.T. podcast is targeted to high school students. Our podcast will provide a fun and unique way to inform students about college applications and mental health tips. It will engage students by asking them philosophical questions, allowing them to give their friends “shout-outs”, and talk about interesting topics such as sports and entertainment.

The podcast will also allow students to give topic suggestions for us to talk about. Lastly, our podcast will be used as a way for other businesses to advertise their product or service to others in the VE world. The advertising services that are provided in the VEI world are limited, so we are providing more options and services for businesses to promote information and reach a larger audience.
